

C4VL Stands with the Community

In this month's newsletter, we're shifting our focus from C4VL highlights and celebrations to providing valuable resources that can support our community.

Immigrants and Refugees

Here are some reputable resources and websites with information for immigrants, refugees and any friends or family of loved ones:

- <https://www.ilrc.org/>
- <https://www.coloradorapidresponsenetwork.com/>
- <https://www.211colorado.org/migrant-and-refugee-resources/>
 - You can also dial 2-1-1 for more information.

Transportation

Scan the QR code (to the right) to access a comprehensive list of transportation resources, including options for gas assistance, bus fare support, and more.

Be sure to update the location to your actual zip code to view local services.

LGBTQIA+

The Center on Colfax offers transgender support groups, events, and community connections—a highly recommended resource.

By scanning the QR code you can find resources for the following:

- LGBTQ Youth Support Services
- LGBTQ Adult Support Services
- Transgender Support
- Mental Health Support Group for the LGBTQIA+ Community

...and more!

How You Can Help

- Advocate for Policy Change – Contact your local elected officials to voice your concerns and push for meaningful reforms.
 - Check out 5calls.org for easy ways to call representatives.
- Support Social Justice Organizations – Donate, volunteer, or amplify their work on social media.
- Encourage Inclusive Workplaces – If you're in a position of influence, advocate for anti-discrimination policies, fair wages, and inclusive hiring practices.
- Stay Informed on Social Justice Issues – Read diverse sources, fact-check information, and engage with trusted organizations. Share resources with loved ones or the community that can help support them.
- Share Resources with Loved Ones & Communities – Knowledge is power. Help others access information and tools to support their rights.
- Take Direct Action – Participate in community events, protests, or local initiatives that align with your values.
